Consultation Decision

The Papakai Operational Area contains examples of ecosystems, forest types and threatened species that are of national significance. The Papakai area has been selected by the Department as a high priority for protecting these values from threats, including animal and plant pests. The western catchments also fall within the Thames Coast Flood Protection Project, which aims to reduce the impacts of high rainfall events on communities along the west coast of the Coromandel Peninsula and to improve water quality in the streams, estuaries and Firth of Thames. Possums and goats have been controlled in this area since 1994. Increasing abundance of possums (RTC 17.3% Jan 12) is placing the outcomes of forest protection and catchment services at risk. The objective is to conduct possum control in the Papakai Operational Area in order to maintain the healthy forest communities in the area. Consultation will take place on effects only in the Papakai Ecological area only due to cost and consideration with conservation outcomes. Consultation on methods and effects in the Goldfields block.

Consultation Objectives

Input into Papakai Block is on effects only

Identifying who will be affected and in what way

Getting support for the operation from stakeholders

Developing understanding of the operation from stakeholders

Treatment boundaries are confirmed with adjoining landowners and occupiers

Engagement and understanding with local iwi.

Maintaining current relationships and developing relationships to ease the way for future operations

Provide transparency in all aspects of the operation, to avoid mistrust

Notification Objectives

Ensuring target audiences know about the planned operation

Ensuring the most affected parties know when the operation is about to start

Keeping target audiences informed about the result and ongoing risks of the operation

There is not a clear understanding of conservation benefits within the local community, including iwi

Background

The Papakai Operational Area contains examples of ecosystems, forest types and threatened species that are of national significance. The Papakai area has been selected by the Department as a high priority for protecting these values from threats, including animal and plant pests. The western catchments also fall within the Thames Coast Flood Protection Project, which aims to reduce the impacts of high rainfall events on communities along the west coast of the Coromandel Peninsula and to improve water quality in the streams, estuaries and Firth of Thames. Possums and goats have been controlled in this area since 1994. Increasing abundance of possums (RTC 17.3% Jan 12) is placing the outcomes of forest protection and catchment services at risk. The objective is to conduct possum control in the Papakai Operational Area in order to maintain the healthy forest communities in the area.

Issues

Treatment area is under Treaty claim

Farm dogs coming into contact with toxin.

Possum carcasses washing down rivers during high rainfall events killing dogs

Unfenced and sensitive boundaries

Conflict with pig hunters over access during caution period

Public/private water sources are located within or immediately downstream of the operational area

There is a history of strong opposition to 1080 from within the local community

There are community groups engaged in conservation activities within or adjoining the area

There is not a clear understanding of conservation benefits within the local community, including iwi

Key Messages

Papakai (Papakai Ecological Area) contains examples of ecosystems and threatened species that are nationally significant

Due to the current economic environment, funding for conservation activity is limited and decreasing

Obligation on the Department is to achieve more with less, encouraging use of the most cost-effective methods

Any increase in cost of control will mean a decrease in how much conservation we can deliver

The operation is intended to improve the health of the forest and increase native bird abundance

Possums are the main target, but we want a method that will kill rats and mustelids also to increase the benefits

We are also aiming to improve stream health and reduce impacts of flood events on communities living downstream

Our experience with monitoring possum impacts tells us that once possums exceed 10% RTCI health of trees such as kohekohe rapidly declines and they will eventually die

Rats and mustelids eat many native birds and so any control of rats and mustelids will result in an increase in bird abundance

Extensive monitoring of native birds following aerial 1080 operations shows that they benefit from pest control

1080 is not cumulative and rapidly breaks down into harmless substances, such as CO2 and water

Our target is to get possum numbers below 2% RTCI

Our target for possums is well below what fur trappers can achieve

Leg-hold traps and cyanide do not target rats, which we want to control to protect native birds

Consultation on effects

There was no opposition of operation however they wish to engage in a long term pest control strategy. Meeting 10/05/2017 1. History of pest control operations – § 9(2)(a) and § 9(2)(a) covered how the Operations started, who was involved and transition into aerial 1080 operations, explained control vrs eradication, aerial supported with ground control between aerial ops, with approximately 1600 traps maintained throughout the year. Combination of aerial and ground. 2. Intent of Operations – § 9(2)(a) spoke generally about Moehau and § 9(2)(a) for Papakai. § 9(2)(a) asked best method of consultation with whanau. § 9(2)(a) asked 'Do we want the less Disruptive option or the easy option?' § 9(2)(a) suggested mail out is best and will make whanau aware of the Papakai operation. 3. Long term objectives – § 9(2)(a) stated Ngati Whanaunga oppose 1080 in principle but understands the Department role in pest control, she also acknowledged the good intent of working with WRC in a long term strategy, some discussion followed of the benefits of a long term strategy. 4. Post Settlement § 9(2)(a) explained the status and transition into post settlement and as are we looking forward to the challenges ahead and excited about the prospects moving forward. Spoke about opportunities for employment and § 9(2)(a) suggested an umbrella arm instead of individuals is the better way to go. We (DOC) agreed to present a report of data for operations over the last 10 – 15 years so iwi can visualise the data as something tangible. 5. Myrtle Rust – § 9(2)(a) explained status of Myrtle rust and seed collection to follow up with info.

Spoken to on 06/05/2017 he is acting on behalf of Whiti Pig hunting club. Extra fact sheet left at reception for him to pick up. [Redacted] called at Base requesting Possum monitoring for Mahakirau advised aas private land this is not available. Myself and [Redacted] attended a meeting on the 30st July 2017 in Coromandel at [Redacted] place, with the Coromandel, Peninsula pig hunting clubs as well as [Redacted] from the Whitianga Pig hunting Club. The main concerns for the clubs were, for DOC to stop all operations and look at trapping, They also wanted water testing pre and post operation and water samples to be taken from the middle of the streams. Also talked about 1080 getting into the food chain and that 1080 was contributed to the dog illness called go slow. It is believe that dogs are contracting the illness from eating wild boar that contains a toxin. They other concerns were that after a 1080 operation that the forests when quite and that it killed all wild life. [Redacted] is going to responded back to the clubs with a letter acknowledging there concerns	DOC-3014902, DOC-3014668

She was also concerned about the water supply to the School. § 9(2)(a), § 9(2)(g)(ii) and § 9(2)(a), § 9(2)(g)(ii) went and GPS a water supply for all the houses in the area. § 9(2)(a), § 9(2)(g)(ii) replied in a email back to § 9(2)(a) and sent a map back with the water supplied marked, and asked her to check if the location was correct, if not to contact § 9(2)(a), § 9(2)(g)(ii) back and i would go out and check the location and GPS. Also sent links to web site regarding 1080 in water. § 9(2)(a), § 9(2)(g)(ii) visited Riverlee on the 3/08/017 to talk to § 9(2)(a) and other members of the school group. There main concern water carcasses been washed down the river and the children playing in the river. And there water supply comes from a spring up behind the school approximately 600 metres from the operational boundary . After the 1080 protest march in Whitianga one or two of the parents are looking at pulling out their children from the school for a period of time . Out come was DOC will move the operational boundary back to the ridge line so no bait falls their side of the ridge. And the school will take water samples at one month interval's for three months to check for 1080 DOC will pay to have these sample tested.Doc will also supply the school with two DOC 200 traps as a project for the children. Released under the Official Information Act

Consultation Decision

A decision has been made by the planning team to consult on effects only. Possums pre-monitoring levels are 6.9% and Rat pre-monitoring levels are 53%.

Consultation Objectives

Identifying who will be affected and in what way
The effects of the proposed operation on identified parties are accurately identified
Affected and interested parties are accurately identified
Developing understanding of the operation from stakeholders
Treatment boundaries are confirmed with adjoining landowners and occupiers
Meeting the consultation requirements for consent applications
Getting support for the operation from stakeholders
Developing understanding of the operation from stakeholders
Engagement and understanding with local iwi.
Maintaining current relationships and developing relationships to ease the way for future operations

Notification Objectives

Ensuring target audiences know about the planned operation
Ensuring target audiences know why the operation is going to occur
Ensuring the most affected parties know when the operation is about to start
Keeping target audiences informed about the result and ongoing risks of the operation
Information about the operation, conservation benefits, and risks to pets are understood.
There is not a clear understanding of conservation benefits within the local community, including iwi

Background

The Moehau Possum and Rat operation is being undertaken to protect and enhance the unique forest and biodiversity values present on the eastern Moehau Range. Annual Possum and Rat control has been ongoing since 2004.
Farm dogs coming into contact with toxin.
Possum carcasses washing down rivers during high rainfall events killing dogs
Unfenced and sensitive boundaries
Conflict with pig hunters over access during caution period
Public/private water sources are located within or immediately downstream of the operational area
There is a history of strong opposition to 1080 from within the local community
There are community groups engaged in conservation activities within or adjoining the area
There is not a clear understanding of conservation benefits within the local community, including iwi

Key Messages

Protect existing fauna and flora from the impacts of possums and rats
Maintain low numbers of rats for the ongoing protection of the NI robin and forest birds in the Stony bay Rat control area.
Contains examples of ecosystems and threatened species that are nationally significant
The operation is intended to improve the health of the forest and increase native bird abundance
Our experience with monitoring possum impacts tells us that once possums exceed 10% RTCI health of trees such as kohekohe rapidly declines and they will eventually die. Under 5% is when the forest recovers. Result of a Possum monitor August 2016 was 6.9%
Result of a possum monitor in January 2012 was >17%, well above this thresh-hold
Rats eat many native birds and so any control of rats will result in an increase in bird abundance RAT MONITOR May 2017
Extensive monitoring of native birds following aerial 1080 operations shows that they benefit from pest control
Our target for possums is well below what fur trappers can achieve
Leg-hold traps and cyanide do not target rats, which we want to control to protect native birds
We will pick up stoats that are trap shy

[Redacted] s concerns are mostly around dogs. [Redacted] offered muzzles but he says he still has enough from last time. [Redacted] also spoke about visiting the rivers for carcasses after major rain events. [Redacted] will send [Redacted] a closer up map of the boundaries and will follow up with another phone to talk about fencing issues. [Redacted] will switch water supplies to outside the operation block during the operation timeframe. [Redacted] spoke to [Redacted] 28/6/17 about the fencing issue. [Redacted] will keep stock down low away from boundary area. [Redacted] offered [Redacted] the use of a 200km electric fence, which he declined. [Redacted] wanted to know if there would be compensation for his working farm dogs should they die of 1080 poisoning. [Redacted] told him if they were to eat a poisoned carcass on his property then yes we would compensate. [Redacted] also offered him emetic pills. [Redacted] is anti 1080 due to its inhumaness, the fact its it is toxic to non-targets and her belief that it poisons the waterways. She is worried that carcasses will wash down onto her property. I told her we would check rivers after major flooding events. [Redacted] is going to post [Redacted] maps showing the proposed boundary that borders her property as the fencing is inadequate we have kept a distance of 600m. [Redacted] will follow up again with [Redacted] as to whether she feels its sufficient. [Redacted] rang [Redacted] 26/6/17, [Redacted] would like the boundary pushed back further on the northern end due to its steepness she believes baits and carcasses will roll down onto the farmland. [Redacted] is also concerned with timing due to lambing/calving. [Redacted] pushed the boundary back another 100m.			WRC adjoining landowners map, Doc CM: DOC-3012445,DOC-3003996

Iwi	Ngati Whanaunga [redacted], Secretary	[redacted]								Meeting 10/05/2017 1. History of Pest Control Operations – [redacted] and [redacted] covered how the Operations started, who was involved and transition into aerial 1080 operations, explained control vrs eradication, aerial supported with ground control between aerial ops, with approximately 1600 straps maintained throughout the year. Combination of aerial and ground. 2. Intent of Operations- [redacted] spoke generally about Moehau and [redacted] for Papakai. [redacted] asked best method of consultation with whanau, [redacted] asked 'Do we want the less Disruptive option or the easy option?' [redacted] suggested mail out is best and will make whanau aware of the Papakai operation. 3. Long term objectives [redacted] stated Ngati Whanaunga oppose 1080 in principle but understands the Department role in pest control, she also acknowledged the good intent of working with WRC in a long term strategy, some discussion followed of the benefits of a long term strategy. 4. Post Settlement- [redacted] explained the status and transition into post settlement and as are we looking forward to the challenges ahead and excited about the prospects moving forward. Spoke about opportunities for employment and [redacted] suggested an umbrella arm instead of individuals is the better way to go. We (DOC) agreed to present a report of data for operations over the last 10 – 15 years so iwi can visualise the data as something tangible. 5. Myrtle Rust – [redacted] explained status of Myrtle rust and seed collection to fol up with info.	DOC-2853283

Spoken to on 06/05/2017 he is acting on behalf of Whiti Pig hunting club. Extra fact sheet left at reception for him to pick up. All the club wanted the operations stopped. [redacted] and [redacted] attended a meeting on the 30st July 2017 in Coromandel at [redacted] place, with the Coromandel, Peninsula pig hunting clubs as well as [redacted] from the Whitianga Pig hunting Club. The main concerns for the clubs were, for DOC to stop all operations and look at trapping , They also wanted water testing pre and post operation and water samples to be taken from the middle of the streams. Also talked about 1080 getting into the food chain and that 1080 was contributed to the dog illness called go slow. It is believe that dogs are contracting the illness from eating wild boar that contains a toxin. They other concerns were that after a 1080 operation that the forests when quite and that it killed all wild life. [redacted] is going to responded back to the clubs with a letter acknowledging there concerns	DOC-3014902, DOC-3014668
