Dear Adam

Thank you for your Official Information Act request, received on 12 February 2023. You requested:

I request under the Official Information Act what modelling has occurred to show the impact on Crown finances of the increase in the cost of borrowing due to higher interest rates. What is the new forecast for interest expenditure each year in terms of total interest cost of government borrowing (both core crown borrowing and wider government) for the next four years. What is the percentage increase of the new forecasts over the last published forecasts. What does this interest expenditure now represent, each year, in terms of a percentage of total crown expenditure for the next 4 years.

Information publicly available

The following information is also covered by your request and is publicly available on the Treasury website:
