4 It is not essential to bring this into the actual curriculum

5 Some of it is still currently not always addressed

5 This is a vitally important topic however there needs to be open communication on what is included and how it need to be from a trained person who has had training. A holistic view around the teaching is also needed as there is a growing concern around mental health issues at the school which are being ignored and not dealt with or in an inappropriate manner.

5 There is a growing amount of bullying at the school - not surprising due to how the issues have been handled. It's highly inappropriate for members of staff to swear while trying to minimise issues. Again this needs to be addressed by a specialised person. I who appears highly untrained and incapable to deal with such issues. Perhaps if you addressed the real issues of the boys in the kura who are looking up if it would help the flow on airway needed as there is a growing concern around mental health issues at the school which are being ignored and not dealt with or in an inappropriate manner.

5 I feel in this new and fast paced version of the world we live in, mental health needs to be of top priority and it still often gets left behind and dismissed
5 This is probably the number one thing I believe needs to be sorted in our schools to save permanent trauma.

5 Mental health is at the heart of learning however it is important that the teachers and other staff lead by example by supporting everyone and not adding to any issues. The mental health of the teachers is also important and needs to be respected and not made worse by 'al as is' currently napping!!

5 Bullying at the school is going to become worse if it is not addressed. It is a challenge for the school to create a safe environment for all children. How can you expect children to behave well when the staff and refuses to support them? because

A lot of the above is mainly parents responsibilities- but if parents aren't doing their jobs or know that is there jobs then schools have to pick this up. Everything you provide to the children should be given to parents so they know what their child is learning and why it is important. Is I don't have 4 kids but couldn't submit form unless I ticked each row.
