Your request for official information, reference: HNZ00067182

Thank you for your email on 1 October 2024, asking Health New Zealand | Te Whatu Ora for the following under the Official Information Act 1982 (the Act):

Please provide the following information on the North Shore Hospital Marae New Build Project:

- whether the project has been fully completed and if not at what stage it is currently at
- how much money has been spent on the project so far
- how much more money is projected to be spent on the project.

Response

For the sake of clarity, I will address each question in turn.

whether the project has been fully completed and if not at what stage it is currently at

This project is not complete. Its design has been completed however the project is currently on hold.

how much money has been spent on the project so far

A total of $1.57m has been spent on this project. The total spend included detailed business case costs, detailed design, full QS costing, precinct master planning and early contractor involvement costs.

Please note that due to the Health New Zealand reset, many projects that can feasibly be paused due to their particular project lifecycle stage, have had to be paused. Particularly where a full build is not contractually committed. The project and its total cost will be considered as part of Health New Zealand's future pipeline of infrastructure investment.

how much more money is projected to be spent on the project.

There is currently no money that is projected to be spent as the project is on hold.
