Notes:

- 1 One equivalent full-time student (EFTS) unit is defined as the student workload that would normally be carried out in a single academic year (or a 12-month period) by a student enrolled full-time.
- 2 Data relates to students enrolled at any time during the year with a tertiary education provider in formal qualifications of greater than 0.03 EFTS (more than one week's full-time duration).
- 3 Data excludes all non-formal learning and on-job industry training.
- 4 Data includes those private training establishments that received Student Achievement Component funding, and/or had students with student loans or allowances, and/or Youth Guarantee programmes.
- 5 Field of study is determined at the course level.
- 6 Data in this table, including totals, have been rounded to the nearest 5 to protect the privacy of individuals, so the sum of individual values may not add to the total.

Notes:
 1 Data relates to students completing a formal qualification at a tertiary education provider. It excludes on-job industry training.
 2 Data includes those private training establishments that received Student Achievement Component funding, and/or had students with student loans or allowances, and/or Youth Guarantee programmes.
 3 As a result of the method used to determine field of study, a small proportion of graduates do not get a field of study assigned to the qualification they completed. This includes baccalaureates, which are not assigned a field of study. However, the data for these graduates without a field of study is included in the totals.
 4 Students who complete a qualification that can be assigned to more than one field have been counted in each field, so the sum of the various fields may not add to the total.
 5 Data for 2014 should be treated as indicative as providers can continue to report completions throughout the following year.
 6 Data in this table, including totals, have been rounded to the nearest 5 to protect the privacy of individuals, so the sum of individual counts may not add to the total.
