Importance: High

Thank you, if you could please identify who the contributors are going to be so I can flick through the template and table for them to provide the comments, in the BOPRC format.

Comments from the contributors are only due on the 8th November, so there is time to make a good case. I just need to know who they are.

Nāku, nā

I agree it's a pain in the A but we can manage it.

It is important that we maintain the ability to charge (as this keeps the requests realistic), if our submission says anything then it should be this.

Cheers

Any thoughts on whether we should be providing comments.

My general feeling is that while Official Info requests are a pain in general we can manage the process.

Bruce is there anything around the contaminated land information that we could tidy up?

Cheers
