The Law Commission's Review of LGOIMA

I'm sure you are all aware that the Law Commission is looking at the Official Information Act and LGOIMA. A discussion document and questionnaire has been published (see attached link) and the deadline for submissions is now February 15.

Local Government New Zealand has been asked to co-ordinate a sector response, we are happy to do this however we have no record of any issues being raised with us about LGOIMA and so we would appreciate any feedback you can give about the Act and what, if anything, is required to improve it and make it work better for councils and the community.

We would appreciate copies of any submissions you might have prepared or just an email with 'top of the head' impressions. We will then circulate a draft submission that councils can refer to if they wish. Given the time frame we would appreciate any comments by Friday January 29. Please send them directly to me at mike.reid@lgnz.co.nz
