Dear Jenny

I refer to your official information request of 5 August 2012 for the following:

“information provided to employees that sets out role, operating framework, what they can and cannot do, expectations when working in a Ministers' Offices in the position as a Private Secretary (or like position). This may include – among information - a guide, a manual.

Please provide a list of positions located in Ministers' Offices occupied by a Department employee. Please also provide a list documents provided to the employees who currently occupy these positions. Please provide these documents. If any are withhold, please the ground and the reason for not providing it.”

I have attached a copy of the Department of Conservation role description for the Conservation Secretary (Private Secretary to the Minister of Conservation). The Department seconds one member of its staff to this role. It provides no other guides, manuals or documents that set out what the secondee can or cannot do in that role.

I therefore regret that I am not able to provide you with the other information you seek as it does not exist (section 18(e) Official Information Act refers).

You are entitled to seek an investigation and review of my decision by writing to an Ombudsman as provided by section 28(3) of the Official Information Act.

Yours sincerely

Role Description

Date of last review: August 2011

Title:	Conservation Secretary	Position No:	30/6446
Business Group:	Conservation Advice	Manager's title:	Government Support Manager
Location:	National Office, Wellington	Band:	E

Context

The Department is the central government agency that is charged with managing New Zealand's natural, historic and cultural heritage on behalf of all New Zealanders. Our aim is to demonstrate the increasing benefit that conservation provides to New Zealanders.

The Department's vision is that New Zealand is 'the greatest living space on Earth'. This vision is larger than the Department and encompasses economic and social concerns not just environmental ones. It is based on the assumption that the Department will be successful in engaging all New Zealanders in work that supports healthy, functioning ecosystems.

To be successful, the Department must become more focused on working with others in flexible and innovative ways at less cost. We are skilled in doing conservation work ourselves but we must learn more about how to assist others to do conservation work for themselves. This shift in focus will occur over the next five years. It will require people in the Department to work together seamlessly to provide timely, consistent and innovative delivery of value to people who use our services.

To give effect to this undertaking the Department has eleven Conservancies in both Islands and a National Office based in Wellington.

Our Values are:

Performance Whakamanawatanga – We inspire confidence by delivering conservation outcomes that benefit New Zealanders

Collaboration Whakakotahitanga – We achieve success through relationships based on mutual respect and benefit

Innovation Awahatanga – We find new solutions by building knowledge and sharing expertise, pushing boundaries, and calculated risks

Trust Whakawhitinakitanga – We work as one integrated organisation that is reliable and relevant

Guardianship Kaitiakitanga – We create opportunities, and take care of natural and historic heritage for the well-being and prosperity of all New Zealanders

Purpose of the role

Secondment to the Minister of Conservation to provide a liaison service between the department and staff in other Ministerial offices and staff in the Minister of Conservation's office to ensure quality information and support is provided and to raise issues for resolution.

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT
