Hello,

I have searched emails between Garry and I – these are included below. Happy to send on individually but thought this may be easier.

Thanks,

Query regarding filming

Hey Garry,

Can you give me a buzz please (when you have 2 minutes)?

I've a friend of a friend whose son Zac called 111 to invite the Police to his 5th birthday party. The call taker sounded like they were pretty awesome and explained to Zac that the Police are really busy and would love to come but are really busy helping the community. They also explained that 111 isn't really for inviting people to birthday parties.

I'm thinking of organising some of my staff to head over to Zac's on his birthday on 21 July and wonder what you think about doing some filming of this – could be a cool clip.

Your thoughts? I'd be confirming that the family are ok with filming of course. I've got a few staff with differing backgrounds on that day so could potentially have a cop turn up in AOS gear, hard public order Policing armour and maybe a Police pup...

Re: Query regarding filming

Hi Garry,

The call was on 2 June at about 5.30pm and the call taker was a [REDACTED] or similar. I have the landline the call was made from but it's in my office on my notepad (I'm out of the office).

[REDACTED] (the Mum) is happy for this to be filmed etc.

I'll grab that landline number and send it to you in the morning. I can also put you in touch with Sarah if you like.

[REDACTED]

It'll be interesting to see what's on the Comms recording.

Hey pal,

The landline number for Sarah [REDACTED] - that was the line Zac used to call Police.

Happy to chat further when you're keen to.

Hi Garry

At about 1min 6 secs the call back from Comms is answered by [REDACTED] Section 29(1)(a)

It appears that Zac (the little kiddie) has called a couple of times after having a yarn to his Mum about having the Police at his birthday party. The call is between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] at Comms.

See what you think...

Hey mate,

Sweet, she's out of the country until the 20th (the day before his party). Might be an on the day thing perhaps or a wee bit later but she's up for the filming side of things so can't see any issues.

The party is from 0900hrs so the basic plan was to arrive at 10 ish with the team. I'm checking with Dog Section about a pup. Possibly bring the bus. Other than that we're open to suggestion as to what might look good from your point of view.

I'll get back to you when I hear back. Can get a FB message to her if she doesn't reply to the text in the next day.
