

26 February 2019

Dear H. Rogers,

Request for information

Thank you for your e-mails dated 8 and 15 February 2019 requesting information on the terms and conditions between evidence.com and Police and the implications for legal counsel. You requested:

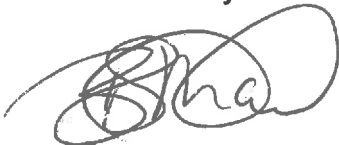

1. A copy of the terms & conditions,
2. When the updated terms & conditions would be uploaded to the website.

Your request has been considered in accordance with the Official Information Act 1982 and I enclose the following information:

- Attached to this response is a copy of the updated terms and conditions, specifically section 2.2 regarding non-commercial use. Previously there was ambiguity regarding counsel's use of my.evidence.com and whether this was in breach of the terms and conditions. This has been clarified and now reads: "These terms of use permit you to use the website for your personal, non-commercial use only. "Non-commercial use" includes access and use by legal counsel, experts and courts in their course of duties and by agents of the current owner."
- The website is yet to be updated. Axon is a global company with the head office residing in the USA. A ticket has been opened with their service desk to amend the terms on the website and this will be made in due course.

If you have any questions, you may contact Acting Superintendent Bronwyn Marshall, Safer Whanau Business Lead, at Bronwyn.Marshall@police.govt.nz.

Yours sincerely
